Let's Start!

Let's be clear on how we proceed.

Learning Outcome

Present advice on solving technical problems in a work context and appropriate for the interlocutor.

Can Do Statements

- I can ask for and give clarification.
- I can talk about the future.
- I can talk about jobs and work.

Ask your partner:

- When was the last time you had to negotiate?
- What strategies did you use?

Let's Explore!

Does Farmani have confidence in Polygon and their big man?

* Calling someone a "big man" indicates the person's is of high power, leadership or status.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Farmani: So you're telling me that to update our integrated marketing system we'll need to follow more relevant global media trends?
- Miranda: That's right.
- Farmani: Can you tell me what that means in practical terms?
- Miranda: Sure. To put it simply, once we own our chosen website domain, we'll establish a strong social platform. That will provide us the ability to create social media websites and services. In short, complete social media networking abilities. You will have top-of-the-line PR services.
- Farmani: What does that mean in financial terms?
- Miranda: I don't feel we've discussed enough of the issues to speak about finances yet.
- Farmani: Alright. Finances for our next meeting. Next on the list ... I'm not sure I know what you mean by F.R.
- Miranda: Sorry that my shorthand is hard to read. Field research. Our South American team is coming together. In fact, we have a man down in Colombia at the moment establishing some connections.
- Farmani: Have you? What's his background? Does he understand the cultural context?
- Miranda: He's Brazilian. A big man in PR in Sao Paulo. I have full confidence in the relevance of his work.
- Farmani: Polygon doesn't waste time, I see.
- Miranda: Neither time nor resources. We'll have a budget prepared for you at our next meeting.

Let's Practice!

Learning Points

Expressing the Future Using Will

One of the most common ways of talking about the future in English is by using the auxiliary verb will. Here's how to form and talk about the future with will.

Affirmative Form = subject + will/'ll + verb

Example:

We'll offer top-of-the-line services.

Using Will to Talk About the Future

- We use will to talk about decisions made at the time of speaking.

We'll have a budget ready for you at our next meeting.

- We use will to talk about facts or events in the future.

We'll establish a very strong social platform through our website.

- We use will to make predictions based on personal opinions.

A website will provide us the ability to include and incorporate social media.

Learning Points

Asking for Clarification

In a business negotiation, sometimes you don't understand what was said or something was not clear to you. It is, therefore, important to express your lack of understanding and seek clarification from the person you are talking to in order to successfully negotiate a deal.

Clarifying	Asking for Clarification
• To put it simply, ... (+ clause) • In other words ... (+ clause) • In fact, ... (+ clause) • To put it simply, ... (+ clause) • Simply put, ... (+ clause) • In short, ... (+ clause)	• Can you tell ... what that means in practical terms? • What does ... mean in financial / practical / personal terms? • I'm not sure I know what you mean by ... ? • So you're telling me that ... (+ clause)? • Have / Do / Are you?

Examples:

- So you're telling me that we need a new marketing system?
- That's correct.
- What does that mean in financial terms?
- Well, in short, it means we need to spend more.
