

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's close this deal!

Learning Outcome

Present advice on solving technical problems in a work context and appropriate for the interlocutor.

Can Do Statements

- I can express myself when making decisions.
- I can negotiate a business plan.
- I can talk about jobs and work.

Ask your partner:

- When was the last time you had to close a deal?
- What happened? How did you do it?

Let's Explore!

Miranda gives two options for how the money is payable. What are they?

* "Payable" refers to an amount of money that must be paid.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Farmani: Alright Miranda, let's summarize what we've agreed on.
- Miranda: Absolutely. We've agreed to the purchase of the domain www.wearholllys.com and settled on a final price of eight million dollars for the domain name and our PR services which include blogging, online articles, callouts, events, a Business Link page and updates on the company's events.
- Farmani: Good job. Shall we go ahead with the purchase of our inventory tracking system?
- Miranda: Yes. I talked to the company who created the system and we've settled on paying $30,000 which can be payable upfront or in 12 monthly installments.
- Farmani: Which is your preference?
- Miranda: Since we are yet unfamiliar with the system, I would strongly suggest paying in installments. We can always return it if we're dissatisfied.
- Farmani: Are there any details that still need to be taken care of?
- Miranda: As agreed, we'll take care of training the staff for online sales. However, we'll need you to supply us with information about your training needs.
- Farmani: Let's save that for another meeting. I'll need to review our discussion with personnel first. Shall we move to the pen and paper?
- Miranda: May I call Janet first? I want to let her know that we've proceeded to this point.
- Farmani: Absolutely. Let me show you an office where you'll have some privacy.

Let's Practice!

Miranda and Farmani discuss the decision they've made.

Instructions: Read the dialogue. Underline the incorrect words in the dialogue.

Farmani: Let's summarize what as we've agreed about on.

Miranda: Absolutely. We've agreed onto to the purchase of the domain www.wearhollys.com and settled up on a final price of eight million dollars for the domain name and our PR services. I talked to the company who created the system and we've settled on near paying $30,000 which can be payable upfront or in 12 monthly installments.

Farmani: Which is your preference?

Miranda: Since we are yet unfamiliar with the system, I should would strongly suggest payable paying in installments.

Farmani: Are there any details that still need to be taking taken care of on?

Miranda: As discuss agreed, we'll make take care of training the staff for online sales. However, we'll need you to supply us with information about your training needs.

Farmani: Let's save that for another meeting.

Miranda: May I send a quick call to Janet first? I am having want to let her know that we've proceeded to this point.

Let's Practice!

What will Polygon provide?

Instructions: Proofread the sentences. Cross out the incorrect words. Write the correct word to complete each sentence. Use capital letters where necessary. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

Our PR services include blogging, online articles, mallins , events, a Business Link page and bulletins on the company's events.

I talked to the company who created the track boxes system. We've settled on paying $30,000 which can be paid upfront or in 12 monthly chunks.

We'll take care of trying the staff for online sales. However, we'll need you to supply us with information about your training needs and persons first.

Extension Activity

Let's assess a business deal!

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- a) You and your partner are negotiating a business deal. Read the information below. Make sure you understand:
 - what parts of the deal have been agreed on
 - what parts need to be decided
 - what parts have not been discussed
 - what needs to be arranged
- b) Use the appropriate language to help you agree on the important terms, express yourself clearly and, finally, seal the deal. Example: We've agreed on the acquisition of a domain for the company. We need to discuss the final price.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I identify which parts of a deal are agreed on and which still need to be decided.

☐ ☐

I identify which parts of a deal still need to be discussed and arranged.

☐ ☐

I use appropriate language to clearly agree on important parts of a deal.

☐ ☐

I successfully seal a business deal.

☐ ☐

Deal 1: Acquisition of website and domain	Deal 2: Training of new staff: Training of new staff
1. Acquisition of domain - agreed 2. Name of domain - agreed 3. Price: $5 million - to be decided 4. Website updates - not discussed 5. Pictures for website - to be arranged 6. Follow-up meeting - to be arranged	1. rent of office space - agreed 2. Trainer's fee ($65/hour) - not discussed 3. number of staff to be trained - agreed 4. dates for training - to be arranged 5. materials for training - to be decided 6. follow-up meeting - to be arranged

Target Words

- upfront (adjective): needing to be paid before the goods or services are delivered e.g. We've settled on paying $30,000 which can be payable upfront.
- inventory tracking (noun): to follow the movement (such as selling or purchasing) of all a company's goods e.g. Shall we go ahead with the purchase of our inventory tracking system?
- personnel (noun): the people working for a particular company or organization e.g. I'll need to review our discussion with personnel first.
- installment (noun): one of several payments into which an amount of money is divided.
e.g. I've talked to the company and we can pay in twelve monthly installments.
- training (noun): the process of teaching people to develop certain skills e.g. We'll take care of training the staff.
- callout (noun): a visit to your home or business by someone providing a service e.g. Our PR services include callouts.

Learning Points

Verbs Used to Express Decision Making

Business negotiations can be time consuming and you may run the risk of not getting what you wanted in the first place. Therefore, expressing yourself clearly and confidently will ensure you get your message across the way you intended.

Here are some verbs you can use to express yourself clearly in a negotiation.

- agreed - use this verb to show that you decided together what will be done and how it will be done
 - We agreed on a price including the website.
 - This is the domain we agreed on.
 - As we agreed, we'll be responsible for updates on the company's activities.
 - We agreed to the purchase of a new domain.
- suggest - use this verb to tell the other party about something that may be useful or suitable for a particular purpose
 - I would suggest making the payment upfront.
 - I strongly / seriously / tactfully suggest training the staff immediately.
 - I suggest calling her before we proceed.
- settle (on) - use this verb to make a decision between two or more people
 - We have finally settled on a final price of 8 million dollars.
 - We have settled on delivering the training.
 - I settled on a name for the website.
- want - use this verb to express what you would like to do
 - I want to let her that we have settled on a price.
 - I want to agree on a final price.

Learning Points

- take care - use this phrasal verb to express what is necessary to do to deal with a person or situation
- We shall take care of the staff training.
- The staff training has been taken care of.
- Janet will take care of the final arrangements.

Closing the Deal in a Negotiation

In a business negotiation, it is important to know when and how to complete a transaction or negotiation. You need to make sure the other party understands your terms and any other actions that need to be taken.

Here is some language you can use to ensure you can close a deal.

1. Start with a summary
Let's summarize what we've decided.
At this point, I could summarize what we've agreed on.
2. State and confirm the terms of the agreement
We've agreed to ... the purchase of the company / buy a new website domain.
We've settled on ... a final price / a new name for the website.
As agreed, we'll take care of ... training the new staff / the final arrangements.
3. Ask for confirmation on missing details
 Are there any details that still need to be taken care of?
 Are there any details that still need to be worked out?
4. Further actions to be taken
We'll need you to ... supply us with information regarding the training / arrange a follow up meeting
The question of ... cost / prices ... remains to be clarified.
5. Sealing the deal
Shall we ... move to the pen and paper / seal the deal?

